Note and Comment

One-minute prayers, followed by fifty minutes of good honest labor will accomplish more than one-hour prayers with the other item left off.

The C. P. R. has long been noted as a progressive corporation, but the schedule which is to go into effect, on this line, on Sunday the 18th, belies that reputation. Instead of the present daily service, each way, we are to be fed with a twice a day mixed train, between Kerrobert and Coronation, the express operating only between Lacombe and Coronation.

This will mean a delay in our mail and express service, as the mixed train does not make connections at Coronation and will make things a day late all along this line, from the West. And there is talk that we may have to be content with perhaps a tri-weekly service, before many moons.

A traveling man who was served at the hotel at Lenora Kan., one evening last week merely ate the centers of the slices of bread, leaving the balance on the plate. The next morning at breakfast he was waited on by a committee of citizens and informed the bread he left the night before would be his first course for breakfast, and they remained to see that he ate it. He took them at their word and downed it like a patriot.

Creek Valley District

A "S. A. G." has been formed and the first meeting will be held on Sunday Aug. 25th after the Church Service. All are invited to attend and anyone willing to speak, read or recite please communicate with the Secy. On the 25th, Messrs Teetzel & Connah will speak on Current Topics and Mesopotamia respectively. New and old tunes will be sung and practiced, and some readings are promised.

A Girls' Rounders Club has been formed in connection with the School and all girls not already notified are asked to be at the School grounds for practice at 6.30 on Monday night Aug 10th. Girls from other districts also invited.

The Trustees wish to thank all those who helped at the School Sports and Tow as well as those who donated prizes.

FOR SALE

For Sale, 8 Sanitary Closets, complete, also a quantity of Beaver Board. Particulars from C. Connah, Sec. Treas.

The Department of Education has decided to put up a school building, in the Basin Lake District, and have appointed School Inspector McLean as Official Trustee. There has been considerable delay in the organization of the district so the Department has acted accordingly.

PROCLAMATION

GEORGE the FIFTH, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, KING, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India.

To all to whom these presents shall come or whom the same may in any wise concern.—GREETING :

A Proclamation of conditional amnesty respecting men belonging to Class I under the Military Service Act, 1917, who have disobeyed our Proclamation of 13th October, 1917, or their orders to report for duty, or are deserters or absent without leave from the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

E. L. NEWCOMBE, } WHEREAS considerable numbers of men belonging to Class I under our Military Service Act, 1917, called out on active service in our Canadian Expeditionary Force for the defence of Canada under our Proclamation of 13th October, 1917, although they have thus become by law soldiers enlisted in the Military Service of Canada.

Have failed to report for duty as lawfully required of them under the said Military Service Act and the regulations thereunder, including the Order in Council duly passed on April 20 last,

Or have deserted.

Or absented themselves without leave from our Canadian Expeditionary Force,

And it is represented that the very serious and unfortunate situation in which these men find themselves is due in many cases to the fact that, notwithstanding the information and warning contained in our Proclamation aforesaid, they have misunderstood their duty or obligation, or have been misled by the advice of ill-disposed, disloyal or seditious persons.

AND WHEREAS we desire, if possible, to avoid the infliction of the heavy penalties which the law imposes for the offences of which these soldiers have thus been guilty, and to afford them an opportunity within a limited time to report and make their services available in our Canadian Expeditionary Force as is by law their bounden duty, and as is necessary for the defence of our Dominion of Canada.

NOW KNOW YE that we in the exercise of our powers, and of our good will and pleasure in that behalf, do hereby proclaim and declare and cause to be published and made known THAT THE PENALTIES OF THE LAW WILL NOT BE IMPOSED OR EXACTED as against the men who belong to Class I under our Military Service Act, 1917, and who have disobeyed our Proclamation aforesaid; or who have received notice from any of our registrars or deputy registrars to report for duty on a day now past and have failed so to report; or who, having reported and obtained leave of absence, have failed to report at the expiry of their leave, or have become deserters from our Expeditionary Force, PROVIDED THEY REPORT FOR DUTY ON OR BEFORE THE TWENTY FOURTH DAY OF AUGUST 1918.

AND WE DO HEREBY STRICTLY WARN AND SOLEMNLY IMPRESS UPON ALL SUCH MEN, and as well those who employ, harbour, conceal or assist them in their disobedience, that, if they persist in their failure to report, absence or desertion until the expiry of the last mentioned day, they will be pursued and punished with all the rigour and severity of the law, SUBJECT TO THE JUDGMENT OF OUR COURTS MARTIAL WHICH WILL BE CONVENED TO TRY SUCH CASES or other competent tribunals; and also that those who employ, harbour, conceal or assist such men will be held strictly accountable as offenders and subject to the pains, penalties and forfeitures in that behalf by law provided for their said offence.

Provided however that nothing contained in this Our Proclamation is intended to release the men aforesaid from their obligation to report for duty as soon as possible or to grant them immunity from arrest or detention in the meantime for the purpose of compelling them to perform their military duty; our intention being merely to forego or remit the penalties heretofore incurred for failure to report, absence without leave or desertion incurred by those men of the description aforesaid who shall be in the proper discharge of their military duties on or before the said twenty-fourth day of August, 1918.

Of all of which Our loving subjects and all others whom these presents may concern are hereby required to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent, and the Great Seal of Canada to be hereunto affixed. Witness: Our Right Trusty and Right Entirely Beloved Cousin and Counsellor, Victor Christian William, Duke of Devonshire, Marquess of Hartington, Earl of Devonshire, Earl of Burlington, Baron Cavendish of Hardwick, Baron Cavendish of Keighley, Knight of Our Most Noble Order of the Garter; One of Our Most Honourable Privy Council; Knight Grand Cross of Our Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George; Knight Grand Cross of Our Royal Victorian Order; Governor General and Commander-in-Chief of Our Dominion of Canada.

At Our Government House, in Our City of OTTAWA, this FIRST day of AUGUST, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and in the ninth year of Our Reign

By Command,

Under-Secretary of State

An Artist's Oversight

The Carelessness of the Lustige Blatter Artist Is Criminal.

The Berlin Lustige Blatter has a satirical cartoon showing a procession in London celebrating the fact that "the British have conquered their dislike of food tickets." There is a serious oversight in the drawing, though. The procession is passing through the main thoroughfares of London, yet the artists have actually depicted the surrounding buildings as standing in good condition. What becomes of the repeated assertions that the Gothas have left London in ruins? The carelessness of the Lustige Blatter artist is criminal, and it is to be hoped that by now he has been suitably chained up.—Manchester Guardian.

War Hardened French Nerves
Four years of war have apparently case-hardened French nerves. While the greatest battle of the war was being fought only twenty miles from Paris, and while the "mystery gun" was actually bombarding the French capital, art lovers gathered at the sale of the collection of Edouard Degas and made it one of the most successful of such sales since the war began. French, and go about their occupations and amusements as usual unless duty calls them to the front. A self-contained, imperturbable, phlegmatic race, one might think—yet these are the excitable Gauls! The world has learned much about the French in four years.

An Editor's Error
Jane Willis—So Madge broke off her engagement to that magazine editor. What was the trouble? Marie Gills—She sent him some love letters, and he returned them with a rejection slip, stating that, while he was always glad to see such shindies, and they undoubtedly possessed merit, he was greatly overstocked with other contributions of a similar nature.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

False Reports Restrict Tourist Traffic

American Visitors May Travel Freely in Canada Without any Interference

The volume of tourist traffic from the United States this year has been considerably lessened by misleading press dispatches appearing in American and Canadian papers regarding the Canadian registration act. It was unwarrantably stated that visitors to Canada from the United States would be required to register at a post office before they could secure accommodation at a hotel, that passports were absolutely necessary, and most recently the absurd rumor was widely circulated that women from the United States would not be allowed to return home. The latter ridiculous report is specifically denied by Mr. W. D. Scott, superintendent of immigration, who officially designated it as "absolutely untrue—absolutely untrue—absolutely untrue." Senator Gideon Robertson, a member of the Dominion cabinet, and chairman of the registration board, is equally positive in his denials of the other mischievous reports. The actual facts are, according to the official statement of the registration board, that the registration act applies only to persons permanently resident in Canada and does not affect even remotely anyone living in the United States; that no registration is necessary to cross into Canada; and that no passports are required. The possession of papers showing the holders to be American citizens is all that is necessary to cross into Canada. At the international boundary line the holders of these papers are given an identification card by the Canadian immigration officials, which enables the visitors to travel freely where they wish without any interference on the part of Canadian officials.

Senator Robertson, chairman of the registration board, has announced that "neither in the instructions issued nor the regulations for Canadian registration is there anything that would indicate desire or intention to impose restrictions upon Americans or aliens, entering, traveling in, or leaving Canada." The experience of those American visitors who have already come to Canada verifies Senator Robertson's statement, but unfortunately there are many across the border who have not read this announcement, and may be influenced by the reports to stay at home, spoil their vacation, and cause a mutual loss to themselves and to Canada.

The Passing of the Million Mark Is an Event

The amazing record made has been in response to an emergency and the history of the world gives no parallel for what America has done and is doing. What it means to the allies may be seen from the fact that since April 1, the day when Hindenburg was to be in Paris, this country has sent 637,929 men abroad. The casualties of the allies since March 21 can hardly exceed half a million. Thus they are left in a power stronger than before, while Germany has no new source upon which to draw to replace men sacrificed ruthlessly in the grog offensive. The passing of the million mark is an event that will be celebrated with high enthusiasm in all the countries leagued in defense against German aggression. Best of all is the fact that not a single American transport carrying troops to Europe has been sunk, and that the total loss of life in transport has been 291. Thereby he heavier losses to come, but the record to date shows that the U-boats have been defeated and beaten.—From the Springfield Republican.

Holloway's Corn Cure takes the corn out by the roots. Try it and prove it.

Force, to the Utmost

We hope there will be no more parleying with these monsters. Only one method of argument is open to us, and that is to reprimand in the most drastic and thorough manner in our power. Germans, wherever and whenever they can be reached, must be bombed and bombed again, until the piteous whining already apparent in the Rhine towns becomes a clamorous call for mercy.—London Daily Express.

Bilgity for Sons of America

And now England is to be the "Bilgity" of the lads of great America, many of whom already have grown to like our land. Let them know that the arms of England are open for them. She is the comely mother of her sons she will be good angel of her sons' comrades.—London Daily Mail.

Cattle Looking Well

The cattle ranchers of Southern Alberta report that their cattle are looking extraordinarily well, says the Lethbridge Herald. Though there has been less growth on the ranges this spring, there was plenty of well cured grass left over from last year. Beef cattle are fat and will be turned off earlier than usual, though the recent drop in price is a factor against marketing early in the year.

Daylight Saving

On the Farms Things are Taking the Even Tenor of Their Way

In the country on many of the farms, time is regulated by the old standard. This is said to be largely because the dew refuses to dry up an hour earlier under the daylight saving scheme, and it seems that dew is something to be reckoned with when it comes to farming. Anyway, the farmers are making good use of about it—no delegations to Ottawa and Toronto to demand that the iniquitous thing be abolished—so we may safely assume that the daylight saving scheme is taking the even tenor of their way despite the daylight saving scheme. Experience has shown that the towns and cities gain much from daylight saving and that farmers can stand it. This being the case we may expect that daylight saving will now be a regular feature of each succeeding summer.—Galt Reporter.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery come on so quickly that often a little life is beyond the mother's grasp before she realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on, she must act quickly. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Liberty Day"

Why, then, should not the allied nations with common accord set apart a day certain in each year hereafter to be celebrated as a Liberty Day—to commemorate the struggle and sacrifices made in the great war for the freedom of the world, which began on August 1st, 1914? Such a day need not take the place of any national holiday; it should commemorate the time, not merely when liberty was won for a nation, but the time when liberty was saved to the world.—Halifax Chronicle.

NURSING THE WOUNDED

It takes strength and courage to nurse the wounded. Every woman should make herself fit for war's call at home or abroad. Health and strength are within the reach of every woman. They are brought to you by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Take this medicine, and there's a safe and certain remedy for the chronic weaknesses, derangements, and diseases peculiar to women. It will build up, strengthen, and invigorate every "run-down" or delicate woman. It assists the natural functions.

At some period in her life, a woman requires a special tonic and nerve. In tablet or liquid form, send Dr. Pierce, Free, Invaluable, Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., (or branch, Bridgeburg, Ont.) for trial pack table.

For many years, I have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and it has completely built me up in health and relieved me of all the annoying pains and aches.—Mrs. Thomas, Ontario, 425 Front St. Niagara Falls, Ont.—"During middle age, I began to go down in health. I would become dizzy, black spots would appear before my eyes. I also suffered with severe pains in the back of my head, and my back would ache continually. I was unable to do my work. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, but the cure came through this critical period in a good healthy condition. It is a splendid medicine for women at all times in life."—Mrs. W. P. Thomson, 187 Bridge St.

Population of a City Lot

Two and a Half Millions of Bugs in One Ace of Land

In a little town in Illinois, George N. Wolcott conducted an investigation to find out how many animals—or rather forms of animal life—inhabited an acre of city land. The count in a city lot, obtained by multiplying the contents of a bucketful by the figures requires for an acre, disclosed the fact that there are between two and a half millions of grasshoppers, locusts, crickets, cockroaches, earwigs, lantern flies, plant lice, aphids and other bugs in one acre of land. There will be, of course, a large variation in the count, according to the season in which it is made. For example, there is a one-third increase in the population in the spring over that in the autumn, owing to the rapid multiplication of earthworms.—Popular Science.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati man tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted off, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin. If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

The Same Kind of Folks

Behind the disputes and wars and treaties in the history of the two nations lie certain other bottom conditions on which the United States and Great Britain and the United States have one language; English is the official language for all public proceedings and documents in both countries. English common law is at the bottom of our law with regard to crime and property and in many other fields. And, what is most important, Britons and Americans are very much alike in their ways of thinking and acting. In these things they are the same kind of folks.—The American Boy.

Farmers in Business

Commercial Activity of the Farmers in Western Canada

The commercial activity of the farmer is a big factor in the business of Western Canada. Through their co-operative institutions they operate 606 country elevators in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba; two large public terminals; two large private terminals, and are marketing about one-third of the crop of these three grain producing provinces. Before the war one of these institutions was classed among the largest wheat exporting firms on the continent, and this branch of its organization is now in the service of the allied governments. Two of the farmers' organizations distribute commodities used on the farm, and a business of over $7,000,000 annually is transacted. In addition the farmers have $250,000 invested in a printing and publishing plant, employing 150 people; they own hundreds of coal sheds and flour warehouses; several large machinery warehouses; an immense timber limit on the Pacific coast. They export 3,000 cars of livestock annually. They own office buildings and stores. They have 1,300 employees. The paid-up capital is nearly $3,000,000 with reserve funds of $2,000,000. The assets of the farmers' companies are now over $12,000,000.

Boys Doing Good Work

Nearly 3,300 Teen Age Boys are Engaged on the Farms

Nearly 3,300 teen age boys are steadily engaged on the farms of Saskatchewan and Manitoba under the observation of the C.S.E.T. officials, and only in six cases has it been found necessary to make any adjustment because of dissatisfaction, according to D. R. Poole, director of boys' work for the province. Mr. Poole stated that more than 1,600 boys were working out in Saskatchewan, and only one case of dissatisfaction had to be adjusted, while there were five such cases in Manitoba. On the whole, Mr. Poole said, the boys were doing splendidly, giving full satisfaction, and receiving the very best of treatment.

BUSY BIDEFORD

We would call attention to the Red Cross meeting which will be held Friday Aug. 23rd, at 8 p. m. All members are requested to attend.

Saturday proved an ideal day for the Social which was held in a tent, down by the station. Bunting and flags announced the fact that the three countries Canada, England and the States were meeting together in an entente cordiale. Inside were women of many nationalities but of one mind and purpose.

The net proceeds will be some $36, but as many were unable to be present we hope to receive a contribution from them to add to our funds. Money is urgently needed to pay for more supplies, and Bideford must strive to do a bigger bit than she is doing.

The minstrel show, aided by other local talent, was greatly enjoyed. All who are not members are asked to join the R. C.

The holidays are nearly over and already the children are talking of the teacher's return. Miss Inkster is a general favorite here and beloved by scholars and friends. May we remind the children of their holiday tasks of drawing maps of North America. Whose will be the best, and will the Trustees offer a few small prizes so as to encourage the boys and girls.

There can be seen, not far from Bideford, a beautiful flower garden where sweet peas, cornflowers, etc., are all a blowing and a growing in lovely profusion. The garden is cared for by loving yet skilful hands and reflects great credit on the owner. Despite the drought, despite the sudden frosts, this enthusiast has managed to produce a fine show of flowers and such a record should inspire others to keep pegging away.

We would call the attention of the residents of this district to the importance of dealing in our home town whenever possible. We are not good neighbors, not good citizens, if our money leaves by mail to purchase what we can obtain in our local stores. Our Storekeepers are honest men who will hand you out a fair deal and give you good value every time. Its up to you.

The Red Cross Rooster and his mate are being raffled off at 10 cts a time, at Procter's Store. Have you got a ticket?

Everyone should call and see the line of boots and dry goods in Staley's New Store where prices compare favorably with the mail order houses. We are glad to see the everyday garments for sale here that folks need for farm work, as the excuse of many people has been "we have to send away for we cannot buy it in Bideford."

HAROLD BINDLOSS

WARD, LOCK & CO., LIMITED
London, Melbourne, and Toronto

Foster's eyes narrowed as he gazed up the track and saw two figures come round a bend. They were too far off to be distinct, but he was walking fast. If he sat still, he would be invisible for two or three minutes but not longer, and he quickly studied his surroundings. There were large boulders and brambles between him and the water, and the tall hedge offered a hiding place on the other side. It might be wiser to get out of sight, but he would make an experiment, and dropped a few wax matches and a London newspaper he had bought in Carlisle. The country people did not use wax matches and London newspapers were not common among the Border moors.

Then, moving slowly, he made for the hedge. There were only a few bushes between him and the approaching men, but he had a good background, into which his figure would melt, and was ready to lie down if needful. He paused for a moment at the edge of the burn, which spread out in a fan shape, reflecting the fading light. He might be seen against the water, but something must be risked, and if the men were looking at him, he would watch the road. Stepping in to the stream, he waded across, making as little splash as possible, and found a hole in the hedge, through which he crawled. He was now in the shadow and it would be difficult to distinguish him among the thick stems.

The men were plainly visible and did not look like country people, for the hill farmers and shepherds walk with a curious gait. Foster crouched down and waited, knowing he would get a useful hint when they reached the spot he had left. They stopped and one picked up the newspaper, while his companion bent down and got up with something in his hand. Foster, who imagined the fellow had found the matches, wondered whether he had made his trail too plain. If they suspected the trick, they would know he was not far off and search for him.

He could not see their faces well and regretted this, because it would have been useful to know them again, and although they began to talk, their voices were too low for him to hear what they said. Presently one left the road on the opposite side of the stream and climbed the steep bank on which he stood as if he wished to look across the moor. The other walked along the edge of the grass with his head bent, but Foster thought it was too dark to see any foot prints he might have left. The fellow came on a few yards towards the stream, but Foster stood still for about half a minute while Foster tried to see his face, but could only distinguish it as a white oval in the gathering dusk.

He was anxious and puzzled, because he did not know whether the men wanted him or Lawrence. The nearer of them was no doubt, see him if he crossed the burn, but Foster thought he might seize and put the fellow out of action before the other came up. This, however, would be risky, and since he did not know their intentions he was not sure he would gain much if he came off victor. To his relief, the man went back and joined his companion in the road, where they stood looking about, and then set off rapidly down hill as if they had decided to go on to Jedburgh.

When their footsteps died away Foster turned back along the hedge and struck across the moor in the dark. It would be better to avoid Jedburgh, and he must try to find the house that Pete had told him of. He had some trouble in doing so, for the way fell into a bog, but at length a light blinked on a hillside and he came to a small building, sheltered by a few stunted ash trees. A shed thatched with heather and a rough stone byre stood near the house, and a big peat stack filled one end of a miry yard. A dog ran out and circled round Foster, barking, and an old man with a lantern drove it off and asked what he wanted.

Foster said he wanted shelter for the night and was willing to pay for the accommodation, to which the other replied that they did not take in strangers. When Foster stated that Long Pete had told him to go there he hesitated and finally said:

MURINE'S Granulated Eyelids.
Bore Eyes, Eyes inflamed by Sun, Dust and Wind quickly relieved. Try it in your Eyes and in Baby's Eyes. Your Eyes No Smearing, Just Eye Comfort.
Murine Eye Remedy and Eye Drops. Murine Eye Remedy, in Bore Eyes, in Baby's Eyes. Ask Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago.

W. N. U. 1221

"Well, ye can come awa' in and see the mistress."
The flagged kitchen was very clean and a big peat fire burned in the grate. A black cat meal chest stood against the wall and old-fashioned china filled the rack above. On the opposite side there was a large cupboard, which Foster thought concealed a bed. The room was warm and looked comfortable after the wet moor. Then Foster turned to the red-checked old woman who sat knitting by the fire and fixed on him a quietly-scrutinizing gaze. He explained that he was tired and wanted to stay the night, adding that Pete had said they would be willing to accommodate him.

"What for no, if ye're a friend o' his?" she agreed. "It's a lang road to Jedburgh. But ye'll be wanting some supper."

Foster confessed that he was hungry and after a time sat down to a plain but appetizing meal. When this was over he gave his host his tobacco pouch and far an hour or two they talked and Foster thought the woman was studying him, but she restrained her curiosity and he admitted that the manners of both were remarkably good. He was beginning to understand and like the lowland Scots, though he saw that some of the opinions he had formed about them were wrong.

They were reserved, essentially practical, and industrious, but they had, when one came to know them, a certain reckless humor that one did not often find among Englishmen. Then they were marked by an individualistic independence of character that made them impatient of authority. They were not turbulent or given to protesting about freedom, but they could be cajoled or driven. It was strange to find a well-organized fraternity of poachers in a quiet, law-keeping country, but one must allow something for habits inherited from moss trooper ancestors. Foster had noted this respect for good land-lords of ancient stock, but this did not prevent them using the landlord's salmon and game. Since he had, so to speak, been made a member of the band, it was comforting to feel that they could be trusted, and he was somehow sure of this.

He slept soundly in the cupboard bed and made an excuse for staying at the farm next day, but as he stood outside the house in the afternoon his host came up.

"There were two men on the Jedburgh road asking about a stranger on a walking tour,"
"Ah!" said Foster. "Do you know whether they asked if they wanted a man who wore a glove?"
"They did that!"

Foster pondered. He was being searched for, and his host knew he was the man inquired about, but the old fellow's face was expressionless. "Since I didn't get so far as the road, they'd learn nothing."

The other's eyes twinkled. "I wouldn't say they would find out much if they came up here."

Well, said Foster, "don't know yet if I'll go on today or not."
"Ye ken best about that," the farmer answered with Scottish dryness. "I dinna see much objection if ye're for stopping another night."

The Rust Menace In Canada

Reason to Believe That Eradication of This Evil Is Nearing

Solution

What rust on grain has cost the Canadian farmer in cold cash through startling reductions in yield, and what, in turn, the consequent cut in spending power has meant in hardship to the wage earners in eastern Canada who produce goods western Canadians buy, can probably not be calculated. But no two representative grain growers or manufacturers would hesitate to declare the cost to Canada as one expressed in terms of hundreds of millions of dollars. So anxious are they to lessen the power of this curse to the grower of grain is certain to work out to the general advantage of Canada. And, it appears now that there is good reason for optimism among those who have been actively engaged in solving the problem and so increasing the effectiveness of Canada's food contribution to the allied cause, and the base of prosperity of Canadians from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

"Many people, indeed, foresee the utter extinction of the rust menace in Canada in the eradication of the barberry plant and in the development by Seager Wheeler—the Luther Burbank of the Canadian wheat world—of variety of the great essential cereal that matures some ten days earlier than that generally grown in the Western provinces. Absolutely that the decorative barberry—except the Japanese sort—is the chief cause of the propagation of rust trouble, and already in the spring wheat belt in the United States and in Canada, an organized campaign is working for the eradication of the barberry in all sections likely to infect the growing grain. It was brought out in congress in Washington by the Hon. George Young of North Dakota, that the settlers in the colony of Massachusetts in 1755 were aware of the intimate relations between the barberry plant, and rust on wheat, and that a law was passed thirty years ago providing for the rooting out of the shrub in that jurisdiction. Denmark, however, has begun the modern crusade, and the Hon. Mr. Young says that rust has practically disappeared from the wheat fields of that progressive Scandinavian country since the carrying into effect of the campaign against the innocent-appearing barberry.

SMOKE TACKETS

Apparently this plant is "host" for the rust, which is carried on the winds as far as two or three hundred miles. That is how rust in Canada may have come via the air route from the United States, or how rust in the Dakotas or Montana or some other state in the republic may have been carried from plants in Canada. When the climatic conditions are suitable, it fastens to the wheat and then, to complete the cycle the parasite returns to the barberry which preserves it in health during the winter. Almost invariably, hitherto, there has followed a sharp reduction in yield wherever the ordinary spring wheat has been attacked. That is where Seager Wheeler enters as a factor in the future of Western Canada grain growing.

For the past eleven years, on his farm near Rosthern on the Canadian Northern Railway in Central Saskatchewan, he has been "breeding" a strain of wheat that matures early in itself that should be of value as a guarantee against loss by frost. But there is the added significance that by the time the rust usually develops on wheat in the west, his wheat has developed to the point where it can do practically no harm.

While little has been said in public in Canada, the leaders in Canadian agriculture have been closely watching the rust evil in all its ramifications. Now, Dean Rutherford of the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, points out:

"The people of Saskatchewan are fully aware of the fact that rust can come to us from Dakota or from any of the states to the south and gets started when our conditions are favorable to its propagation and spread."

For instance, in 1916 the rust wave from the states to the south gradually pushed up in a north-westerly direction far past Saskatoon. The states to the south are waging war against the barberry. Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and I think Alberta, have included the barberry bush amongst their noxious weeds on account of it being a host plant for the rust. Steps are being taken to have it destroyed in all gardens and hedges."

And further: "Conferences have been held already in Western Canada for the purpose of discussing ways and means of preventing rust. One of the matters that received consideration was that of the barberry and it was recommended that this plant be destroyed. The barberry has not been used extensively in Western Canada, yet, probably more of it can be found in parks and large public grounds than anywhere else. As these are under governing bodies, either municipal or government, it will be a very easy matter to have this plant eradicated. The Dominion department of agriculture is interesting itself in this important question and has under way carefully planned investigations with reference to it."

And Seager Wheeler says of his new "breed" of wheat: "Red Bobs comes up to all my expectations in practically every respect—more so than I could reasonably expect. I personally consider it a perfect wheat to suit our conditions in the west in point of earliness to maturity of the crops, and in 1916 the loss from rust alone in Canada amounted to $135,000,000. Red Bobs matures a week to ten days earlier than even Marquis. While it is not altogether rust resistant it is practically immune owing to its stage of filling at the time rust begins to develop, so that rust cannot do any damage to the grains as it will be filled before rust makes any headway in the crop."

"Of other good qualities its great strength of straw enables it to be grown on land and stand up where other sorts (except Kitchener) lay down owing to excessive soft growth in rich land. Another good quality: the heads fall completely, where in other sorts many heads have empty spikelets. Red Bobs is being grown this season in many districts in the three prairie provinces and will be put to a severe test, but I am confident that it will make a good showing."

In a broad sense Canada must regard Red Bobs wheat as a good gift from Australia. Out there, under the Southern Cross, in 1905 a farmer "crossed" a wheat without name with a barley called Nepal. A hard headless, good milling wheat was the result, but—it was unmarketable because it was white. Some samples came to this country and experiments with it were made during a period of several years. But it remained white. Then Seager Wheeler, in 1907, began his experiments with it. By dint of great care and patience has he gotten the Red Bobs. He gave it that name because he is a great admirer of "Bobs" the soldier, and because he thinks one day it will be a great factor in the prosperity of the Dominion, a development in which the beloved Field Marshal would have taken pride.

Appointed Chief Engineer

Mr. J. M. R. Fairbairn has been appointed chief engineer of the C. P. R. system, replacing Mr. J. G. Sullivan, chief engineer, who is retiring to enter private practice, is the announcement made by special circular issued by Sir George Bury, vice president, and approved by Lord Shaughnessy, the president.

Too much credit cannot be accorded Mr. Fairbairn, whose rise has been the result of sterling service rendered by the company since he joined them in 1892. Mr. Fairbairn was born in Peterborough 43 years ago. He entered the Toronto University, where he graduated.

Following a short private practice in British Columbia, Mr. Fairbairn joined the Canadian Pacific Railway in June, 1892, in the engineering department and became assistant engineer at Montreal, August, 1901, and resident engineer at Ottawa 12 months later. After three years in the Ottawa division, he returned to Montreal as division engineer, and was transferred to Toronto some months later, from which place he returned to Montreal in November, 1907, in a similar capacity. It was in October, 1908, that Mr. Fairbairn was made principal assistant at Montreal, two years later being promoted to engineer of maintenance of way, and in June, 1911, was made chief engineer of eastern lines, a position he occupied up to the time of his present promotion, which is the highest railway position attainable.
